Workshop Description: Do you have anyone in your church who is thinking of retiring or is already retired? Of course you do. This workshop teaches us about the current models of aging, which describe stages instead of actual ages. We will then learn about the life issues, spiritual issues, and theological issues older adults face in each stage of aging. Finally, we will discuss how we can minister with older adults in each phase.

Rev. Désirée M. Youngblood

About the workshop leader: Rev. Désirée M. Youngblood is the pastor of Prince of Peace Presbyterian Church of Pickerington. She has been involved in Older Adult Ministries since elementary school and started leading older adult groups in her early twenties. She has led Older Adult Ministries in three large churches and has been a member of Older Adult Ministries committees in two presbyteries. Désirée received a certification in Older Adult Ministries in 2012. She has been a member of Presbyterian Older Adult Ministries Network since 2003 and is a former member of their executive committee. She is a founder of Clergy Against Alzheimer's. She is well published in older adult topics and had an article in January 9, 2017, The Presbyterian Outlook on spiritual landscapes for older adults.
