

Commission for Presbytery Operations (CPO) Jim Hines, Chair

AUDITORS NEEDED. For many years, the Presbytery has used the services of outside auditors to "audit" the Presbytery's financials. This service comes at a steep cost - somewhere north of $15,000 annually. At the suggestion of the Presbytery Council, the Commission for Presbytery Operations is planning to conduct an "INTERNAL FINANCIAL REVIEW" of our books and to use the services of an outside auditor only once every two or three years. Therefore, CPO is seeking volunteers to serve on our "Financial Review Committee".. You DO NOT need to be an auditor or CPA to serve. Some experience with budgets and financials would be helpful. Do you serve as a church treasurer or on your church's finance committee? We'd love to hear from you.

What we're proposing is NOT a FULL AUDIT but an INTERNAL REVIEW of our financial operations.
